POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Associate Justice Douglas L. Edmonds of the State Supreme Court, who has achieved nation-wide recognition for his work in streamlining and liberalizing judicial procedure is reported in Washington to have a good chance for appointment to the United States Supreme court, if President Roosevelt decides to name a westerner to the high court.

Justice Edmonds, during his six years of service on the State Supreme Court bench, has written or participated in some of the court's most celebrated decisions, but his best known public work, perhaps, has been in cutting through judicial red tape and eliminating "the law's delays."

Prior to his elevation to the Supreme Court, he served with distinction as a trial judge in Los Angeles.

The vacancy on the United States Supreme Court was created by the resignation of Justice F. Byrnes to become director of economic stabilization. United States District Judge J. F. T. O'Connor also has been mentioned as a possible California candidate for the post and there was a rumor some days ago that Governor Olson was seeking the appointment, but reports from Washington indicate that Olson is not being seriously considered for the place.

There is also a vacancy on the State Supreme Court, occasioned by the death of Associate Justice Frederick W. Houser, father of Lieut.-Gov. Fred Houser, and Governor Olson is scheduled to make this appointment before leaving office. Reports that Olson might resign as Governor a few days before his term expires, permitting Lieut.-Governor Patterson to become Governor for a short time, on condition that Patterson would then name Olson to the vacancy on the State court, have been discounted by Patterson, who apparently feels that the outgoing Governor does not possess the training or experience for the job.

Patterson has indicated, however, that he might consider a deal to name Olson to the State Railroad commission, if he were allowed to sit in the Governor's chair for a limited period.

If Olson and Patterson decide against indulging in a double play designed to place the outgoing Governor in some lucrative, long-term office, the place on the State Railroad commission may go to State Director of Finance George Killion, according to Capitol reports, instead of Senator J. C. Garrison of Modesto, who has been most frequently mentioned for the spot heretofore. Killion has been a staunch supporter of the Governor throughout his administration and Olson is said to have a high regard for his ability.

TAGGART FAMILY IS IN THE WAR

Miss Jean Taggart, daughter of Gilbert L. Taggart, San Jose and Los Gatos road, is now at Northhampton, Mass., where she is attending the Naval Reserve Midshipman's school at Smith college as an ensign in the WAVES, in which she recently enlisted.

Miss Taggart graduated from the University of California in 1940 and has been with the United States Employment service in San Jose.

G. L. Taggart, a lieutenant of World War I, is now with the Farm Security Administration in San Jose, and his three sons are all in the armed forces.

Irving Taggart is an ensign in the U. S. Naval Air Corps, stationed in Pasco, Wash.; Donald, a second lieutenant in the infantry, U. S. Army, is in Louisiana; and Pvt. Glenn Taggart is with the Army in San Francisco.

Jack Anderson On the Air This Saturday Night

The change in the congressional setup following the November elections will be discussed Saturday night by Congressman Jack Anderson, representative of the eighth district. The talk will be heard over stations KQW and KHUB between 8 and 8:15 o'clock.

In his talk the congressman will tell just how, in his opinion, the gain in Republican strength in both the house of representatives, of which he is a member, and the senate will affect the war program, and other important legislation to come before congress. In addition he will speak on a post-election survey made by a national organization to determine why the voters made the changes they did in the congress.

Issues of vital importance to California also will be discussed by Congresman Anderson, and special emphasis will be given to the critical problem of farm labor shortage in this state. This is the second of a series of talks inaugurated by this district's representative to keep the people back home informed as to just what is happening in congress.

L. J. Carbonis Hosts At Party

The L. J. Carboni home was the scene of an annual event Sunday when Mrs. Carboni was hostess in honor of Mrs. Perry C. Terwilleger of San Martin, in celebration of her natal day.

Other members of the party who enjoyed a full day and evening of visiting were Mr. Terwilleger, Mrs. Roy Horton of Santa Clara, Mrs. J. F. Randolph of San Jose and the hostess and family.

TOO MANY "HELPERS"

THE STORK IS A BUSY BIRD

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Emmitt Dehne are the parents of a son, Carl Gordon, born Nov. 6 at the San Jose hospital.

A son, Roger Warren, was born at O'Connor's Friday, Nov. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hewitt of First and Minna streets, Campbell.

Gary is the name given the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dias. He was born Thursday, Nov. 12, at O'Connor's.

Gas Rationing Books Issued In Campbell

Registration of passenger cars for gasoline ration books began yesterday at the Campbell grammar school and will continue through tomorrow. Each applicant should have an application OPA form R-534 filled in, including the serial number of the tires and the registration card (the white slip). If he has no excess tires —four and a spare—he will be issued an "A" book.

The "A" book is intended to provide you with enough gasoline to drive 2,880 miles in a year (based on the present coupon value of four gallons and on the official government mileage estimate of 15 miles to the gallon). Of the 2,880 miles, 1,080 are considered to be available for "family" purposes such as shopping, going to church, or taking children to school. The remaining 1,800 are considered as available for occupational driving and no one whose occupational driving does not exceed 1,800 miles a year (150 miles a month) is eligible for a "B" or "C" book.

Each coupon is good for four (4) gallons. The book contains coupons for eight months. There are four sheets of eight coupons. Each sheet is good for a designated two-month period only and any unused coupons remaining at the end of the period become void.

SEAL SALE OPENS 23rd

The sale of Christmas Seals opens on Nov. 23, and approximately 35,000 letters containing the seals will be mailed from the San Jose headquarters of the county Tuberculosis association, according to Martin S. Walsh, chairman of Campbell's committee.

An attractive poster advertising the sale will be placed in the window at Clark's drug store, to which your attention is invited.

The following statistics indicate the vital need of adequately helping by buying seals. The latest authentic figures show an alarming increase of tuberculosis deaths in European countries and Canada. In many countries accurate statistics are not available, but in others the percentage of increase in the years 1939-41 runs as high as 18 per cent in some.

In time of war this always occurs, and to prevent it in this country the funds from the sale of Christmas Seals are used in searching out incipient cases and treating them.

Mr. Walsh announces that persons who do not receive seals by mail or who wish to purchase additional seals may do so by contacting him.

St. Lucy's Club Whist Party

The ladies of St. Lucy's club will hold their monthly whist party on Friday afternoon, Nov. 27, at 2:15 o'clock in the parish hall on South Third street.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. H. F. Cousins, chairman, Mrs. M. Parr, Mrs. M. Vintro and Mrs. I. Alameda.

The public is invited.

VACATION

Anthony Raffanti returned this week from a brief vacation spent in southern California in company with Ralph Martin, one-time manager of the Campbell theater.

Miss Barbara Knowles Bride of B. W. Hartman, Jr.

Plighting their troth at an afternoon nuptials Sunday in the Federated church in Saratoga, Miss Barbara Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Knowles of Rincon avenue, and Barnard W. Hartman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hartman of San Francisco were wed at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Fred R. Morrow, pastor of the church, read the service in the presence of some 200 relatives and friends.

The church was lovely with decorations of white chrysanthemums. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Ernest Wanzer, the bride's sister, sang "At Dawning" and "Because." She wore a period styled flowered formal.

The bride, given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her father, was lovely in her gown of white brocaded taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline and a full skirt, and fingertip veil fastened with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a formal one of white tuberous begonias surrounded with white chrysanthemums.

As maid of honor, Miss Muriel Knowles attended her sister in a gown of poudre blue with golden accessories and her flowers were golden hued begonias and chrysanthemums. Miss Betty Bunda, the bridesmaid, wore a frock of peach satin and net, and her bouquet was in pink of the same flowers.

"Prisoners of War" Topic of Visitor's Talk

"Lopi" Loper, field secretary of the YMCA, gave a most interesting "on the spur of the moment" talk to the Kiwanis club Tuesday when the scheduled speaker failed to appear. He talked about "War prisoners" with whom he had had personal contact in the Hawaiian islands.

Visiting members were the speaker, Bert Ericksen, city clerk of Mountain View, and George Sohler, water superintendent of the same city.

The annual Thanksgiving meeting will be held next week with Rev. D. H. Baldwin chairman, and the Rev. Samuel Chaney of the Los Gatos Methodist church the speaker.

Campbell Youth AT Navy Station

Farragut, Idaho — A member of the Campbell, Calif., community last week reported for duty with the Navy at the U. S. Naval Training station, Farragut, Idaho. He is Roy Darrell Howard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Howard, 38 South Fourth street.

After several weeks of training and physical drill, he will be assigned to a Navy service school to learn a specialized trade or will be transferred to sea duty with the growing U. S. fleet.

OPEN LETTER FROM CHIEF JACK SCOTT

The following letter, which was sent to the Press by Jack Scott, chief of the Campbell Volunteer Fire department, is submitted for your consideration:

Editor, the Press:

Some agitation seems to be afoot for the enlargement of the present Campbell Fire district.

It has been reported that members of the fire department were approached regarding this matter, but the report is without foundation; at no time has any member of the department been consulted about the proposed extension of the district.

At the present time some difficulty is being experienced in maintaining the personnel of our department, and enlargement of the district now would aggravate this condition.

The fire district is now allowing $30 per month, or $1 per night, for a man to be present at the fire house. The man on duty now would like some time off, or to be relieved occasionally. At this time it is hoped that some of the public organizations may help to solve the personnel problem by finding additional volunteers for the present set-up.

It takes many hours of patient labor and many months to properly train efficient operators for the type of equipment owned by the district. The department has lost 16 men directly or indirectly, because of the war, and as a consequence we have had a continuous training program to keep up the membership.

Personally, I am willing to see the proposed enlargement program go through, but I also believe that the program should be sheived unless certain important obstacles can be overcome:

Any acceptable expansion program should provide for both regular day and night men in attendance at the fire

Merrill Home Endangered by Nocturnal Blaze

The Dr. W. I. Merrill home had a close call from a disastrous fire last night in the absence of Dr. and Mrs. Merrill, who were in Palo Alto.

A rug over the floor furnace register was forgotten when the furnace was turned on, and caught afire. The floor and wall back of the furnace were badly burned, but it was owing to the chance passing of men who saw the fire and the immediate response of four members of the fire company that more serious damage was averted.

A window lock was broken to gain entrance, and as soon as the fire was controlled Ethan Lanphear called the Merrills and they hastened home, glad to find no worse a situation.

THE BIG GAME

It's still the Big Game--spelled with capitals.

Whether it's the Big Game with the Stanford Indian in combat with a snarling Golden Bear, or tough El Trojan having it out with the UCLA Bruin, or the Santa Clara Bronco pitted against the wily Galloping Gael, it is an event of high importance to men in every quarter of the globe.

Scores of thousands of graduates and former students of the schools will be far from home on Big Game afternoons—in training camps, on foreign battle fronts, in ships on the seven seas. They are fighting to preserve such things as Big Games—happy crowds gathered without fear under friendly skies, bands, rooting section stunts, inspired plays by kids fighting their hearts out to win according to rules of sportsmanship that the murderous game of war cannot know.

There are some things about the Big Game of his school the Old Grad overseas may not know. The team squad is smaller, and comparatively short on talent. The band that marches so proudly hasn't half the men it had last year. But for the thrill of thrills from home let the Stanford man in the Solomons hear by shortwave the band of his school blaring, above the noise of the crowd, "Come Join the Band," or the USC man on a battleship hear the stirring "Fight On" march of the Trojans.

No one can say whether unforeseen exigencies of the war will preclude Big Games, or any football games, next year. But it is good that they are to be played this year—for never in football history has any Big Game been so big to so many people.

MEET GENERAL "IKE"

Behind the dramatic entrance of United States land, air and naval forces in North Africa, behind the split second timing which coordinated our operations with those of British forces, stands the chief figure in our European theater of operation—Lieutenant General Dwight David (Ike) Eisenhower, commander of the United States forces in charge of American and British military action in French North Africa.

This energetic Texan-Kansan, with his ready smile, scorn for brass-hat formality and with his studious nature, was well fitted by training and experience to launch this first decisive step toward the long promised second front. Once an aide to General MacArthur, General Eisenhower is not only an expert on war strategy, but experienced in the tank corps and a holder of a pilot's license in the air corps. Above all this, his friendly, democratic feeling toward men in general and soldiers in particular has equipped him for the tremendous task of unifying the vast scale operations now proceeding.

Our government took care to announce to the French in North Africa by means of the radio that our campaign was undertaken to "repulse the cruel invaders who would remove forever your rights of self-government, peace and security," and that we sought no territorial gains. The need to control our supply lines to the Middle East, Russia, India and China, break the Axis grip on North Africa and prepare the way for invasion of Europe, motivated General Eisenhower's land, sea and air attack. The Yanks are no longer coming. Under General "Ike" they've arrived!

TO GREECE

Memorial services for Greece throughout our nation this week mark the second anniversary of the invasion of Greece by Germany. The pitiable plight of this country is best told in a small item announced by California's War Chest. Three shiploads of grain arrived safely in Athens, but starvation is now so widespread that food will be given only to those who have some chance to live. An estimated 1000 Greeks are dying daily from hunger and disease.

In April, 1941, a few months after the German invasion, a correspondent in Greece wrote that history would record it as one of the bloodiest and most astonishing battles ever fought. Bloodiest because the Germans used the full force of their war arsenal. Astonishing because for so many months, the staunch Greeks, on their windswept hills, stood off the terrible blitz that bombed every hamlet, village and town of their country. In art, science and letters this ancient and venerated land bequeathed much to western civilization.Our memorial to Greece is a deep desire to see her restored to life.

REMEMBER THAT JUNK!

Yes, your scrap is being used. Word comes from the Bethlehem Steel plant in Sparrow Point, Md., that its vast scrap piles are steadily rising day and night. A big electro-magnet sorts through the heap for true metals. Then it goes to the furnaces, is melted along with pig iron into fluid metal which become molded ingots. The metal has to stand terrific punishment, and steel experts study constantly behind closed doors to get better results out of metal rubbish—all for the battle line against the Axis. Remember it? This is that piece of iron pipe, that old spade, the chandelier chain you fished out of its dusty corner.

County Gets Share of Gas Tax Money

State Controller Harry B. Riley today apportioned $109,939.77 in gasoline tax money to Santa Clara county for the quarter ended last September 30. This county's share was computed on the basis of a motor vehicle registration of 79,626.

The apportionment was nearly 16 per cent less than for the corresponding quarter last year. Thus the county's revenue from this source is starting to feel the effects of decreasing gasoline sales.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

Sabotage! The Secret War Against America, Michael Sayers and Albert E. Kahn.

The word sabotage is derived from the sabots (wooden shoes) which nineteenth century French weavers flung into their looms to smash the machinery which they believed would rob them of their jobs. The authors of Sabotage say that one of the most common forms of sabotage is wrecking machinery. But they do not stop at telling about machinery wrecking done by saboteurs — they cite many wreckings, fires, explosions, etc., and describe how they were accomplished, methods used, and who engineered them.

The deeper the reader gets into this book the more excited and angry he becomes—excited because he is learning that enemies of our country are working right under his very nose, and angry because he is being made a fool of. Yes, we are blind, very blind to what goes on around us. We are too busy with our own business to be mindful of our country's affairs. It is books like Sayer's and Kahn's that jab us in the ribs and prod us on to action to fight for our country's security every moment by being on the watch for subversive activities.

The book contains some 50 pages of secret papers, photographs, spy letters, and other exclusive documents. It traces Nazi and Japanese conspiracies aimed at wrecking or obstructing the American war effort. It reveals, among things, the devices and techniques of the Nazi saboteurs in America; how ships are sabotaged; who the "brains" are behind the sabotage network; and most important of all, how Americans can fight against the dirty workers.

This is the book that Walter Winchell spoke about on his Sunday evening broadcast a few weeks ago, advocating that each of us would profit by reading it. It is indeed, to say the least, a powerful instrument for opening our eyes to our situation at home where the saboteurs are striving to arouse hatred and discontent.

Military Men Include Host And Guests

The Merlin Bohnett home on Rincon avenue was the gathering place Sunday of a group of friends to meet with the hostess and her husband who was home from Mather Field, Sacramento, and who was accompanied by Corporal Farocca and Sergeant Ozenbaugh from the same place.

Others of the party were former and present members of the staff of the Hester branch of the bank of America, Clem Arioto, Navy, San Francisco; Curtis Pullen of the Navy, and Mrs. Pullen, also of San Francisco, and Sergeant and Mrs. Creighton, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Al Redo and Miss Doris Buck, all of San Jose. The last named expects to be in the WAVES soon.

"Latin American Industries" Topic At Club Meeting

On Monday the Country Woman's club held its second meeting of the month at the clubhouse.

Speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Jessie Shelley who also acted as chairman of the day.

Mrs. Shelley spoke on "Latin American Industries and the Impetus they Receive from the Present War."

She pointed out that since the outbreak of World War II the Latin American countries have lost much of their world trade and have had to depend more on themselves.

There has been a great expansion of existing industries and some ventures into new ones. Those industries which have especially benefitted from the war are rubber, textiles, chemicals and medicines as well as paint and cement. Construction is almost booming in some countries with extensive use of local materials, while mining is developed with the aid of United States capital.

Mrs. Charles Brandenburg introduced the musical part of the program during which the club chorus sang the following numbers: "Spanish Cavalier" by William D. Hendrickson, "Juanita" by Caroline Norton and "Vienna, Lovely City of Dreams" by Sieczynski. The chorus was directed by Mrs. David Rutherford and its members were Mrs. Ralph Hyde, Mrs. Worthin Grattan, Mrs. Calvin Bohnett, Mrs. C. P. Klassen, Mrs. John D. Blaine, Mrs. Charles Brandenburg, Mrs. J. O. Leverton, Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, Mrs. E. J. Bohnett and Mrs. Ira Grim.

Miss Ruth Cousins, a Campbell Union High school student, sang "Thine Alone" by Victor Herbert and "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier" by Oscar Strauss. Miss Nina Page accompanied her.

Richard Corbett of San Jose played two piano selections, a mazurka by Chopin and a Gypsy rondo by Haydn.

Miss Claire Kratz of San Jose gave two Spanish dances, "Espana" and "Estudiatina Waltz."

Mrs. Leigh Saunders and Mrs. Roy Bishop had charge of the decorations which were arrangements of toyon berries, native cedar and catoneaster.

Other members of the committee who assisted were Mrs. W. C. Bohnett and Mrs. John Strong.

Orchard City Grange

A regular meeting of Orchard City Grange No. 333, was held in I. O. O. F. hall in Campbell, Nov. 10.

Martin S. Walsh, legislation committee reported on the proposal to enlarge the Campbell Fire district.

Herbert Shadle of the civic improvement committee, reported that the Kiwanis club has financed the repairs on the roof of the observation post.

Mervyn Keesling, marketing committee, reported that up to now 90 per cent of the dried fruits has been sold by growers. Packing houses are all working to full capacity on army and navy orders and that just a two-months supply of prunes and raisins for civilian use is left for this county. There will be no Christmas boxes of assorted fruits this year.

Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, education committee, reported that classes in first aid are now open. She recommended especially the class in home nursing. A class in nutrition will also be started.

Harry Barnes reported on farm and orchard activities.

Gerald Cook and Mrs. Elsie Eaton were visitors from the Mt. View Grange.

The next meeting of the grange will be held Dec. 8, and at that time there will be election of officers for the coming year.

David F. Rutherford

Defense Drill Held Last Night

The Campbell Civilian Defense zone participated in a series of theoretical incidents Wednesday evening. A total of ten supposed bombings scattered throughout the zone were reported by certain of the precinct captains to the local control center. These in turn were sent to the county control center.

Due to the weather the local fire, police, ambulance, and first aid crews were not sent out to the location of the incidents but they were notified as to where they occurred and what they were supposed to do.

All members of the local staff participated in the drill and everyone was pleased with its success.

County control officers say Campbell reports came in in an excellent manner.

More extensive drills will be held in the near future.

The Unexploded Bomb

EDITOR'S NOTE: Did it ever occur to you that in the event of an air raid your home may survive the raid with no damage whatsoever, and that a day or two after the enemy bombers have departed, it may be blown to bits?

That may happen. When it does the answer will be the unexploded bomb, the UXB. In last week's article we told about the UXB and why it is the most dangerous and devastating of modern war's weapons. In this article we will tell you about the organization working to render these bombs impotent.

Unexploded bombs which have come howling down out of the skies during an air raid are not found lying on the surface of the ground.

Instead they will come crashing through the roofs of homes, factories, or buildings tear through the limbs of trees and bury themselves from 15 to 60 feet deep in the ground.

Almost always they leave indications of their passage. It is these indications, which if promptly reported, begin a series of coordinated and planned operations in your defense. When your Air Raid Warden has reason to believe that an UXB has fallen in his area, he has been instructed to immediately call the control center of your civilian dedefense council. The Control Center will dispatch a Bomb Reconnaissance Agent to make a thorough investigation of the scene and decide whether the hole through the roof, the living room floor, basement or pavement was caused by the passage of a bomb, or whether it was caused by a chunk of concrete blown from an actual nearby explosion.

The Reconnaissance Agents have been carefuly chosen by your Civilian Defense council and given a special course of training by the U. S. Army to prepare them for their duties. If the Agent decides that an UXB does exist, he will instruct the Air Raid Wardens to remove the residents from the area where the UXB has planted itself. Thus you will be told that you must grab a suitcase of clothes and move out of your home, along with you family and your neighbors for a considerable area around the UXB.

You will have to find residence somewhere else. If you have no place to go, your Civilian Defense Council will assist you in finding quarters.

Auxiliary police will be sent to the scene to rope off the area, direct traffic from the evacuated territory and to police the neighborhood so that your home possessions will be protected while you are away. The control center of your Civilian Defense Council will also notify the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense headquarters nearest your city, which in turn will call for expert assistance of the Bomb Disposal Unit of the Western Defense Command and Fourth Army.

At this point the U. S. Army will take over and it will be the Army's job to take such measures as may be necessary to remove the planted bomb. In case a number of UXB have fallen ,it may be a week or more before the Army can take care of the one which has disrupted your life. But you must stay away from your home until you are notified by the authorities that it is safe for you to return.

Every citizen has a responsibility to perform in connection not only with the UXB but with all other instruments of war which may fall during an air raid. This responsibility will be outlined in next week's article.

Women at War

Margaret

Margaret turned off the humming vacuum cleaner, and straightened the slipcovers of the armchair and the daybed that she had pushed up to go over the rug. Then she stood quite still in the doorway and looked at the small bedroom with its southern exposure. It was as neat and impersonal as a pin. It might never have been lived in. The door stood open on the clean, bare closet. There was not a pennant, not a team picture, not even so much as an old Arithmetic book left to show whose room it had once been.

Margaret stared at the walls, the furniture, and deeply, slowly, she realized that no matter what lodgers with their own trinkets and pictures might occupy it, she would always see it the old way. It was the old way that she saw it now. A pair of hard-worn gray pants lay on the floor where they had been dropped. Three baseball bats were stacked with a fishing rod in the corner. A battered red cap with a letter on it lay on the bed. And through the bed, as though it were transparent, Margaret saw another bed, smaller, and with high slatted sides.

She put the vacuum cleaner away and went down to her desk in the sitting-room. She took the fifteen dollars rent that the new lodger had paid that morning in advance for the room, and added to it, from her purse, three dollars and seventy-five cents more. Then she drew out a sheet of paper and began to write on it, slowly, gravely.

"To buy a bond to help train a young man to replace Don, Jr.—killed on June 6th in the Battle of Midway."

house, their salaries to be met by the district.

In some of the area included in the proposed expansion program there are no fire mains, and it is exceedingly doubtful if material or labor for their installation could be obtained. Furthermore, the water company cannot be compelled to lay fire mains.

Too, it is doubted that we could give adequate protection to a larger territory without additional equipment; lack of fire mains makes it an impossibility.

Faced with a serious problem in the maintenance of adequate personnel, and considering the facts that much of the proposed enlarged district is without adequate water mains and that the purchase of new equipment will be practically impossible until after the war, the proposal at this time seems to me impractical. May I suggest, therefore, that serious consideration be given the above facts before going too far on what appears to be, for the present, an ill-advised program.

Respectfully,
Chief J. B. Scott

Knowles-Hartman

Thelma Knowles, youngest sister of the bride and her little friend Jean Richardson, wearing long dresses with waists of poudre blue and skirts of old rose taffeta, scattered petals from white baskets.

Mervyn Gass of San Francisco attended Hartman as best man and Malcome Reed served as usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for about 75 relatives and a few intimate friends.

The rooms were attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and brilliantly colored grape leaves. The wedding cake was the loving work of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles L. Newell of Los Angeles, and of her sister, Miss Muriel Knowles.

Assisting in serving were Miss Lois Bohnett of Campbell and the Misses Vervaleen and Patricia Trogden of Los Gatos.

The young couple were very happy to have among their relatives present the maternal grandmother of each.

The groom, who is employed as a draftsman in a defense plant, was obliged to return for duty Monday morning, so he left with his bride after the reception for their new home in Richmond.

Adequate LIGHT
Duration-ize your appliances with timely repair!
America needs men who can STAY on the job. 90% of lost time in war work industries is due to sickness—not accidents. This work loss will reach a high peak this winter unless all workers strictly adhere to the rules of health.
Look at these figures! In 1941 illness caused a loss of 100 million man-days of work. Upset stomachs were responsible for the loss of 25 million man-days. The common cold caused a loss of 45 million man-days. Eye strain and ailments caused a loss of 35 million man-days.
Take care of yourself OFF the job—at home as well as on the job. Plan and eat nutritionally balanced meals for body strength and energy. Keep your home heated at healthful temperature, neither stuffy hot or goose-pimply chilly. When you use your eyes give them adequate light for restful, comfortable seeing.
Conserve your health. Do your part in the National Health Protection Program this winter.
